Partners for Innovative Communities

Partners for Innovative Communities (PIC) is a community collaborative engaged in creating safe, healthy, peaceful communities. Our mission is to empower communities by increasing their capacity to create healthy and safe environments through policy design, leadership, and collaboration. PIC connects with various county departments, non-profit agencies, law enforcement agencies, educators, health care providers, faith based organizations, businesses and community members throughout San Bernardino, Riverside and Los Angeles Counties.

In 2016, PIC gathered with community members and leaders from throughout the Southern Inland Region to develop a comprehensive strategic plan for the next five years. As a result of this planning and discussion, PIC developed its top four priorities for community health as a whole. These priorities include: Substance Abuse Prevention, Healthy Communities, Restorative Justice, and Community Climate. Today, PIC brings you the 8th Annual National Innovative Communities Conference, the only conference of its kind in the region, a conference focused around PIC's top priorities and uniting ideas, connecting resources, and transforming our communities for the better.

We thank you for your participation, to learn more about PIC and if you would like to join the coalition in making a difference today, visit us at www.picsocal.org or email julie@we-reachout.org.

REACH OUT

THE NICC IS PRODUCED BY REACH OUT

Reach Out is a 501(c)3 non-profit, non-governmental organization dedicated to creating vibrant communities where all residents and businesses thrive in a peaceful environment.

Since 1969, Reach Out's mission is to strengthen communities by bringing people together to solve our region's toughest issues which includes breaking barriers to educational achievement, expanding economic opportunities, and creating safe, healthy and innovative communities.

For more information about our organization visit www.we-reachout.org

Reach Out is creating a better world with the following successful programs:

BUILDING THE INLAND EMPIRE ECONOMY

The intersection of a strong economy and health is the foundation of Reach Out's Inland Health Professions Coalition. The Inland Empire has the most severe doctor shortage in California, and critical shortages of nurses, specialists, behavioral health and public health professionals. IHPC is the leader in advancing policies and programs to achieve a health workforce that can meet the needs of an ever-expanding and diverse Inland Empire. Last year alone, more than 7,500 employers, educators and students participated in IHPC's trainings, conferences, internships, and Nexus Groups. Reach Out is the Health Care Consultant to both Riverside and San Bernardino Counties' Workforce Development Boards.

HEALTHY, PROSPEROUS COMMUNITIES

Reach Out specializes in creating thriving communities by supporting and mobilizing residents to take leadership positions to build the health and quality of life in the cities we serve. Our Healthy City initiatives are the model for the region on how businesses, government and residents can work together to create vibrant, prosperous, healthy places to live and work. We are especially proud of our current work leading Partners for Innovative Communities, Latino Health Collaborative, Healthy San Bernardino and Healthy Jurupa Valley. Reach Out engages all our partners to take an active role in their community to create movements that improve the overall growth and well-being of their city.

CHILDREN, YOUTH AND FAMILIES

Every year, more than 30,000 Inland Empire residents receive services and support from Reach Out. Homeless and foster youth are helped to continue their education and to find living-wage jobs; families that were caught in cycles of abuse are taught how to be nurturing and compassionate; and, students who are struggling in school due to bullying, trauma, and emotional pain are supported and deeply engaged to not only be able to overcome their grief, but to rise above and become leaders on their campuses and in their communities.

CREATING SAFE COMMUNITIES THROUGH POLICY

With our core value of advocating for Health in All Policies, we have changed the policy landscape in our cities across the region. Cities are the go-to places for inspiration on creating safe and healthy environments for all our residents, and Reach Out's policy and advocacy work is profoundly influenced by our intersectoral partnerships with government, law enforcement, schools, residents, and businesses. In the past three years alone, Reach Out has passed 22 local ordinances that have created greater safety for our youth and families.

The Center for Civic Policy & Leadership engages existing and emerging leaders from throughout the Inland Empire Region to support building healthy, safe and peaceful communities. CCPL serves San Bernardino and Riverside Counties and the Eastern San Gabriel Valley region of Southern California (commonly referred to as “the Inland Valleys”). The target population consists of existing and emerging leaders serving our diverse communities of predominantly Latino and African American youth and families. While the project will target 10-20 leaders, the potential impact of policy implementation, compliance, and advocacy has the potential to affect thousands of residents of the Inland Valleys through increased development of critical mass of organizations and individuals aligned and working towards large-scale social change.

The Inland Health Professions Coalition (IHPC) was established in March 2007 to convene the health professions workforce stakeholders in the Riverside, San Bernardino and Pomona Valley. Members of the Inland Health Professions Coalition include K-12 partners, community college and university faculty, hospital and healthcare agency representatives, county office of education staff, and interested professional organizations and community agency representatives who work to address the growing need for healthcare workers in the Inland Region. Through collaboration with our partners, we strengthen the healthcare pipeline through work-based learning experiences for students and professional development opportunities for educators. As a result, we assist in forming a healthcare workforce that is diverse, culturally competent, and ready to serve the communities of the Inland Region.
